

YOU JUST GOTTA KNOW

Performed by Visions

All your life
You search for what is real
Amongst stars in the heavens
And flowers in the field

How far must we go
To find that great prize
Look to yourself
And realize

The answers are staring right at you
And you know exactly what you must do...

Let the light within show you the way
Only you can tell yourself you're gonna be ok
When the world feels cold, remember the sun
Trust yourself and know the good will come.
Hold on to your dreams and never let go;
These are the things in your heart you just gotta know.

There's twists and there's turns
And forks in the road
Some unexpected
Others foretold

But the roadblocks you find
Are not problems in your way
What you do with those makes you who you are today

The answers aren't always in black or white
The truth isn't always wrong or right...

Let the light within show you the way
Only you can tell yourself you're gonna be ok
When the world feels cold, remember the sun
Trust yourself and know the good will come
Hold on to your dreams and never let go

these are the things in your heart you just gotta know.

Day turns to night, hours to years
Pain becomes joy fears disappear

Let the light within show you the way
Only you can tell yourself you're gonna be ok
When the world feels cold, remember the sun
Trust yourself and know the good will come
Hold on to your dreams and never let go
these are the things in your heart you just gotta know.

All your life
You search for what is real
Amongst stars in the heavens
And flowers in the field...

You Just Gotta Know

From the album "Light of Dawn"

Lyrics by Amy Turner and Tamara Kline, music by Tamara Kline, All Rights Reserved.

www.visionstrio.com